CANADIAN STREAKS TO VICTORY IN USTFF MARATHON

By Dr. Edward H. Kosloff

On Saturday, the day prior to the second annual USTFF Marathon, weather in Detroit suggested that Sunday would be a hard day for distance runners. Wind-blown rain swept the area and cast dark, forboding mist over the course. Race day brought cool, 30 degree temperatures, but the sun made its appearance over the frost-covered roads and the runners felt better.

The Belle Isle course is flat, fast, certified, and 5.3 miles per lap. In 1969 Jerome Drayton, practically unknown at the time, sprinted away at the start and burned to a course record of 2:12:00, which established a still-standing North American Continental record. Two months later, he confirmed that this was no fluke as he ran 2:11:12.2 at Fukuoka, Japan, for the present Canadian record.

Last year, another Canadian emerged victorious as Norm Patenaude, of the Laurentian Track Club, moved away from Motor City Strider Duane Spitz in the last mile to win by 80 yards and set a meet record of 2:24:04.5 in the initial setting of the Federation Marathon.

Again this year, Canada's flag was flying high as Paul Pearson took the lead at the start and held up to out-distance Don Anderson of Garden City. Last October, Paul placed second to the ever-present Duane Spitz in the Motor City Marathon with a time of 2:24:10, which was 65s behind Duane. But Spitz was out this time with a stress fracture of the metatarsal, and Pearson moved up the winning position.

At the 2-mile mark Paul led in 10:38 and at 3 miles was 5s ahead of eventual third place finisher Miro Svab in 15:57. At 5 miles Pearson was averaging just over 3:25 a mile as he came through in 27:05, 21s ahead of Svab and 30s ahead of Anderson. Pearson hit 55:25 for ten miles and 1:23:19 for 15 miles. After 20 miles Pearson gradually moved away from Anderson and finished with a time of 2:29:02 to 2:29:57.

Overall times were slow by course standards as winds blowing off the Detroit River hindered runners for at least two miles of every lap. The 134 starters represented the largest ever field for a Michigan Marathon. However, only 103 finished and this was not a state high. Canadians took four of the top ten places, which was exactly what they did in 1973. The race finished in crisp sunshine as the temperature rose to 38 degrees.

Pearson, who teaches mathematics at Kennedy Collegiate in Windsor, represents the Toronto Olympic Club.

"Some runners seem to regard this as a chance to qualify for Boston, but I think that's a wrong attitude," said Pearson after the jaunt of 4 & 2/3 times around Belle Isle. "This is not merely some qualifying race. This is a better race & much better organized than the Boston Marathon. I don't like Boston. They do nothing to help the athletes there. But I have great respect for the marathon distance."

KARLIN FINISHES FIRST IN MARATHON

Beltville, Md., Sunday, Feb. 17, 1974—Sheldon Karlin and Bob Horman started the Washington's Birthday marathon with different goals in mind. Karlin crossed the finish line in 2:26:26.8, more than two minutes ahead of the No. 2 finisher, Gareth Hayes. He had accomplished what he set out to do.

About a half hour later a spy gentleman of 55 years trotted across the finish line flashing the same grin he had when he started the race. It was Horman, and he too had done what he set out to do—he had fun. Horman finished 22nd in a field of 371 whose average age was 29.9 years.

Horman, a consulting engineer for a Washington firm has been a runner for 41 years and is the world-record holder in his age group for the two mile (11:04) and the marathon (2 hours 48 minutes).

"Running makes good citizens" is his motto. "I like running because you make hundreds of good friends that way," he said before the race. "I know I can't win today, but you're running against your own ego anyway. I just want to have fun running."

When he crossed the finish line, he got the biggest hand from the crowd of 500 that was gathered at the National Agricultural Research Center in Beltville for the 19th running of the annual event.

Two-time defending champion Marshall Adams, a teammate of runnerop Hayes, did not compete because of a calcium deposit on his heel. He is also the course record holder with last year's winning time of 2:24:17.

With Adams out, Karlin, of Langley (Va.) and a former runner at the U. of Maryland; Hayes, formerly of North Carolina State; Max White, a law student at the U. of Virginia; Moses Mayfield of Philadelphia, and Mike Sabino of Baltimore, were all given about an even chance of winning.

Mayfield set the easy pace but tightened up badly in the second nine-mile loop around the rural roads of the agricultural farm and dropped out.

Karlin, a fairly consistent winner in local distance-running competition, made his move on the second loop and won going away.

"I ran a little slower than I had expected to," Karlin said, but noted that a chilling wind hampered all the runners. He works as a playground director for the Fairfax County Recreation Department and thus has plenty of opportunity to train.

He had been running about 110 miles a week, but increased that to 120 a few weeks ago.

The 371 starters were the most in the race's history.

In the mob spread out along the Beltville, Md., road were many runners rich in determination and idiosyncrasy. There was a Connecticut runner who drove as far as New York, found he couldn't purchase gas and flew the rest of the way. There was a man who dropped his wife off at a maternity hospital on his way to the race. He didn't know whether she had delivered yet.

One runner stated that Bob Horman waxes intellectual during competition. "I can't verify that everyone who goes by him gets a morality play, but whenever I pass him he starts talking about some philosophical concept," the friend said.

Horman, who strongly resembles the cartoon character Mr. Magoo, had some thoughts on his image. "People think because I laugh I'm happy, but I'm like Burt Ives: I'm crying on the inside.

Finally there is Sheldon Karlin, blithe spirit, a Woody

Allen lookalike and a long-striding, resolute runner. Karlin and the University of Maryland track team parted company a few years ago, partly because of the length of Sheldon's hair.

At the finish he was applauded with genuine feeling by the friends and relatives of the people he had just defeated. That is one of the many charms of this sport; the fact that competitiveness doesn't translate into enmity, that Marathoners form what amounts, in Horman's words, to a fraternity.

"There's great camaraderie," said Max White. "In one of my first marathons, when the guy running in front of me got a cup of water, he took a sip and handed it back to me. I think that's typical. There's none of that 'Hell with you, buddy' business in the marathon."

20 MILE OPEN RUN, HUNTER'S WOODS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, RESTON, VA., February 3, 1974

This race consists of four 5-mile loops, over road, bike trail and Wooden Bridges. With a misty rain and the temperature just below freezing, the bridges were treacherous, and more than one runner crossed them on rear end or front end! WSC runners Bruce Robinson, Ray Morrison and Shelly Karlin were not about to play three stoges, and elected to try for a steady 6-minute pace. How's 30:25, 59:52, 89:52, and 1:59:44 for sitting that bill? The hardest part was to determine who would get first choice at the merchandise prize table. They used a coin toss--Morrison won and picked up a mixer.

MOSES MAYFIELD DOMINATES MIDDLE ATLANTIC

RRC MARATHON - Moses Mayfield enhanced his road-running reputation with a runaway win in the Middle Atlantic RRC Marathon Championship over the Flat East & West River Drive course on Sunday, March 3rd. Always in control of this race (he led at the half way mark by 9 minutes!), with the thought in the back of his mind of a good time, his hopes were dashed by calf stiffness in the last six miles which caused him to walk for a spell and slowed him to a pedestrian 2:37:30, 4 clocking.

The temperature hovered between the 45 to 50° mark & the skies were overcast--a bit raw for the officials but ideal for marathon running.

Mayfield won a pair of Tiger training shoes for his victory. 85 starters. (Three 5 & 3/4 mile laps)

1. Moses Mayfield, 29, Penn AC, 2:37:30.4 (50:35, 1:40:06); 2. Ed Donohue, 18, Camden County College, 2:44:50; 3. Dave Cope, 19, Lehigh University, 2:46:23; 4. #### TOM DONNELLY EASY WINNER IN 6 1/2-MILE X-C

Deptford Twp., N.J., Sunday, March 10th 1 P.M. - On only his first competitive outing of the season former Villanova distance running star Tom Donnelly won the 6.5-mile cross-country over a rugged, wooded course. Donnelly dispensed any doubts about his current well-being as he lost no time in getting to the head of affairs by taking over the lead after one mile. He was followed across the line by Pennsauken (N.J.) high school ace Joe Germano, who finished 43 seconds back.
 Weather: Sunny, 52 degrees, windy. Sponsored by the Middle Atlantic RRC.

LAST CHANCE MARATHON, MARLBORO, MASS. February 23, 1974. 147 official starters, plus a few unofficial. Temp. 30° and winds up to 60 mph. A most difficult day for running! At times the runners would come to a standstill when the headwind hit them.

Twenty-seven fine trophies and medals up to 25th place were awarded- plus a very fine certificate to all finishers. It is amazing that 94 runners were able to run under the BAA qualifying time.

The finish line had to be moved as the windows were blown out of the building at that point!

WEST TEXAS RUNNING CLUB MONTHLY RACE RESULTS, FEBRUARY RUNS- 8 & 3 MILES

Saturday, February 9, 1974 10:00 A.M., Brownfield, Texas. Weather: 33°, wind 5 mph, clear & sunny.
Participants in the 8-mile Cotton Patch run had to be pretty nimble to avoid either stepping into wind erosion ruts, or onto caliche pebbles as they negotiated the section line roads which formed the course. The alternative to the ruts and stones was running in the patches of energy-sapping soft sand along most of the course.
Howard Millsap came from behind in the late stages to take first place overall in the 8 miler, and turnbacks strong bid by Mike Hernandez. Millsap's time was a course record and a P.R.
Joe Trevino, Brownfield HS miler, won the 3 mile in 18:48 by pulling away from the field in the last mile.
8-Miles- 1. Howard Millsap, 38, Odessa, 48:22; 2. Mike Hernandez, 16, Brownfield, 48:43; 3. tie, Freddie

5th ANNUAL WINDY MARATHON

Saturday, March 9, 1974 - A novice marathoner stole the show from the old horses in the 5th running of the Windy Marathon. Jim Varnau an 18-year-old from Kokomo, Ind., running his second marathon, took over the lead from Barney Hance at about 16 miles and pulled steadily away to win by 4 1/2 minutes in 2:28:12. After taking the lead, Jim never faltered and finished looking quite strong.

Hance, a top notch runner from St. Frances, led the race for 16 miles before developing severe blisters which forced him to drop out after about 20 miles.

Bill Carr, who has suddenly developed into one of Indiana's best long distance runners, ran a personal best to finish second. At 17 miles Carr was about a minute behind Varnau, looking strong and running easy. However, he began to fade at about 22 miles.

Chuck Koeppen, although short on distance training this winter still managed a good third.

Scott Beasley, 12, keeps getting tougher all the time! He ran 3:25:02 and won the trophy for the youngest finisher.

George Branam was the first veteran over 40 to finish. Don Phillips of Urbana, Ill. won the over 50 division with a fine time of 3:13:53. Dick King, alias Mr. Marathon, was second in three hours, 49:15a. Dick has run so many marathons he'd need an adding machine to count them. He probably runs about 20 of them a year! --Carl L. Carey--

ENGLISH RUNNER WINS EARTH DAY MARATHON

Westbury, L.I., Sunday, March 17, 1974- Despite being the pre-race favorite, and winning today's Earth Day Marathon, in a course-record time of 2:28:45.4, England's Chris Stewart was a bit apprehensive about his chances before the race.

A highly-rated British distance runner, the 26-mile, 385y marathon was his first attempt.

"Not having done it before," he said, "I wouldn't have liked to have blown up and dropped out. I wasn't making any predictions.

"I wasn't sure I'd finish till around 15 or 20 miles. It wasn't as easy as I thought it would be."

But the 26-year-old Stewart made it look easy, staying up with the leaders most of the race, which began and ended at Roosevelt Raceway and would take the runners winding through Eisenhower Park. He pulled away in the late stages to win by more than two minutes over Roy Lapidus, 22, of Fairlawn, New Jersey.

The race drew a record 588 starters, 170 more than last year, and had 442 finishers.

One starter who didn't finish was defending champion Larry Frederick of Ilion, N.Y., who suffered an injury during warmups and had to drop out early in the race.

"I think it's a pinched nerve," said Frederick. "I got it doing stretching exercises."

Mike Butynes, a 20-year-old C.W. Post sophomore who finished third last year duplicated his finish and led the Post A.A. to the team title.

Butynes finished in 2:33:08, a minute-and-a-half ahead of teammate John Biedrzycki. Steve Adeler, also of Post, came in sixth.

"I can only take one marathon a year," said Butynes, who runs the mile and three-mile for Post, "but I'm really happy we won the team title."

Lapidus, the runner-up, trailed Stewart, Butynes and Biedrzycki most of the race, but pulled ahead of the Post runners during the last loop around Eisenhower Park (the runners went through the park four times).

Stewart stated that the race is a tribute to the American's fitness. "That the marathon is becoming so popular in the states seems to be a good sign, when you consider all these crisis. More and more people seem to be willing to exercise--running, bicycling, walking, even streaking, I suppose.

"It's noticeable. The types of people who have been known to have heart attacks in recent years because of the pressures--lawyers and those types--they're out running. And the women, too. A very good thing."

Of the 442 who finished, eight were women; 150 of the runners were over 30 years old, 60 of them were over 40; 17 of them were over 50. The oldest, Richard Kothchild of Scarsdale, who finished 406th in 4:12:00 is 60.

It was 45°, overcast and very windy (45 mph gale winds) outside of that everyone seemed satisfied. "It's the worst wind I remember--and I've run in 23 marathons," said Fred Lebow of the Road Runners Club, which staged the race.

By what he had for lunch, Chris Stewart hinted at his lifestyle. There was a cup of tea, of course, since he is British. But the main course was mamicotti (Mangia, Stewart) and the desert was apple pie ("I love it in the States," he said. "So many conveniences.") With only a high school education, Stewart sometimes works in his father's business of collecting old stamps and documents in Bournemouth, England, but his passion is traveling the globe to compete. "I once ran in four different countries in four days," he said, "and have run in probably about 15 or 16 countries altogether. I speak Spanish, Italian and French, so that helps.

"With track, I can choose where I want to go. I can go to any country and find the sport in basically the same form. Certainly, in America, road racing is the nearest thing to the European atmosphere of sport.

Stewart was not quite good enough at 5,000m or 10,000 meters to qualify for the British team for the 1972 Olympics or the recent Commonwealth Games--he finished fourth in the 10,000 both times when he needed to finish third or better--but he is good enough to be invited to almost any other big meet and is a more than welcome guest to the U.S. scene.

A former British national high school-mile champion (4:28), Stewart most recently has been on an eight-week tour of the U.S. "I suppose I'll keep running seriously till the 1976 Olympics. But I couldn't stop running completely anyway. Running helps clean the mind up a bit; the fresh air gives your mind a vacuuming. Sometimes I feel almost as if I haven't washed until I've run for the day."

Hot-fudge sundae and a roast beef dinner went to all who started the race, plus Earth Day Marathon T-shirts for all finishers. Over 90 trophies were awarded (plus merchandise awards!) --Paul Fletcher--

DERDERIAN & DERDERIAN WINNERS IN HALF-MARATHON - March 3, 1974 (Weather: Overcast & cold)

One week following their tandem 3:09 qualifying marathons Tom Derderian and his wife Charlotte Lettie Derderian became winners in Holliston, Mass. in that town's 250th anniversary 21 km. run. Tom was the over all champ with a time of 1:07:22 in the first running of the race, while Charlotte easily led all women finishers in 1:20:33. She placed 51st in the 143 "person" field.

By the 15km mark the race had boiled down to a three man race among Derderian, Ken Mueller, and young Bob Hodge. So it remained until the last 2km. where Tom forged ahead for the win. --Rick Bayko--

MARATHON RESULTS

Feb. 10, 1974

The First Annual National A.A.U. Senior Women's Marathon turned out to be a record-breaker in every respect. Not only were there a record number of entries and finishers for women running a marathon, but two world age-records were set as well. And as if this weren't enough...several other records for members of women finishing in quick times were shattered. And it turned out that even though the women ran side-by-side with the men in the 4th Annual West Valley Marathon, they were far from overlooked in the 'shuffle'. Quite the opposite...overall winner, Jim Dave, was almost overlooked by the press as he became the fourth West Valley TC runner to win this race in as many years. Everyone was waiting for the winner of the Women's National!

The only flaw during the entire race seemed to be the persistent rise in temperature. Although only reaching the mid-60's during the latter stages of the race, the clear skies certainly didn't help in blocking out the sun's strong rays. A number of competitors suffered noticeably from near heat exhaustion, including Boston's Jenny Taylor, who after holding second place at the 25-mile point, dropped eight places while staggering the final mile plus 30 yards in something over 24 minutes! Not all-in-all, these were very fast, with a great number of men and women recording personal bests by significant margins. The continuous aid that was available at 2-1/2 mile intervals (plus several "unofficial" aid stations manned by local residents) was obviously a positive factor which contributed greatly to holding down the number of 'heat cases'.

Although it would take far too much space to individually recognize all those who helped in making this race an unqualified success, it should be pointed out that they numbered well in excess of 2000! Without the unselfish help rendered by these dedicated people, the Championships would never have taken place in the way they did. Special recognition must go to Don Bressie, Neil, Women's Marathon Meet Director, and Jack Lepzig, West Valley Marathon Meet Director, for coordinating various committees of both races. The tremendous backup volunteer help provided by both the city of San Mateo Recreation Dept. and the West Valley TC membership, combined with the many volunteer organizations and individuals listed in the Meet Program, paved the way for a near flawless race. Thanks to all who helped in any way, no matter how small...your part was instrumental in making a successful Championships.

At the gun, Judy Iansberry, 31-year-old housewife from Crestline, California, and representing the Pielto Road Runners, went out fast (20:14, 1:04:51, 1:31:47), was over twice then second, and took over the lead for good from Jenny Taylor just after ten miles. She then passed through 20 miles in 2:11:40 and 25 miles in 2:46:11 on her way to the National crown in a very quick 3:15:17. In the process, she pulled two other women under three hours...the most to ever break that barrier in a single race. Marilyn Deal, 36, of Portland, Oregon, chopped over six minutes from her previous best with a 2:52:44 for second, just ahead of Peggy Lyons of Palo Alto, who was clocking fast on both of the leaders. Peggy's 2:50:53 was almost 25 minutes under her previous best!! Fourth-place overall, and winner of the Age-Group Division, was amazing May Dita Holton, 22-year-old Dip-tak champion from San Francisco. Her 3:00:15 mark was so quick that no woman under 20 years of age has ever run that fast. No race has ever run that fast at such a young age either. Nina Kuzisak, who was admittedly not in the best of condition, decided to make the trip from New York anyway, and solidified a very pleasing 3:04:11 for fourth position in the Championship Division. Surprising Lucy Penn of the University of California Medical Center, led her team to an upset victory over the Pielto Road Runners, 3:10:25, with the Redwood City Flyers (3:33) and Willows Locom (70) trailing. Her fifth spot, combined with Irene Bulford's 3:34 (3:12:20) and Joan Wilton's fifth (3:13:13), was enough to overcome Judy Iansberry's top placing for the runner-up squad. Ruth Anderson (44) was the older record-holder for the day, her 3:40:59 clocking eclipsed her own Masters standard by more than three minutes as she finished in a tie for fourteenth overall. A record 37 women began the race, and 44 of them managed to complete the classic grid (nearly the same percentage of finishers as in the men's race). Even more amazing was the fact that nearly half the field made it in under 3:30, the qualifying standard for the Boston Marathon. Two more were only about a half-minute off. The record number of finishers was more women than had ever played a marathon before!! Certainly, women have proven that this is their sport as much as the men's. With such a successful first-time effort for a women's championships, it shouldn't be long before the fair sex has their own all-women's race... It doesn't look like numbers of entries will be a limiting factor in the future.

While the women were getting nearly all the attention, the men were doing their thing right alongside them in the Fourth Annual West Valley Marathon. At the starting line, the race was solemnly dedicated to Larry Lewis, who, at 106 years of age was more fit than the majority of American men in their 40's. He passed away only a short week before the race, and it was fitting that the first race after his death should be dedicated in his name.

Bob Darling of the Excelsior Track Club started out on a very quick pace, bringing his through the first three checkpoints in 27:00, 34:09, and 1:02:11, before he started to fade. He still had a two-minute lead (1:49:14 to 1:51:13) over Jim Dave of the host club at the 20-mile marker. Jim passed Bob somewhere around 23 miles and proceeded to open a wide margin of victory, finally coming through in 2:26:09 (vs Darling's 2:29:50). This was Dave's first official marathon, keeping a remarkably strong going for this race (four years is a row now the winner has been a WVC athlete running in his first marathon...in order, Silvio Mejia, Don Karlong, Ron Garate & Dave), Mike Cooney, Darling's teammate, closed fast for third in a PR of 2:30:12. Alex Aguilar lowered his best about three minutes to take top honors in the 35-39 year-old division. Alex is a member at Silver Creek High in San Jose. Amazing Russ Smith, now 46 years old, got a PR with 2:33:33, good enough for seventh place overall. The Weber's 2:40:03 and T.A. de Luisian's 2:50:20 were the next two in the over-40 category, while Jim Freeman's 2:40:30, and Mark March's 2:41:39 were runner-ups in the high-school class. West Valley TC kept its four-year team-title string alive, but not without a scare from powerful Excelsior TC of San Francisco, who lost by the slimmest of margins, 12-12. The West Valley Juggers and Striders took the next six with 31 tallies. Winners in the other divisions were: 11/Under - Mike Bengert; 12-14 - Mike Naitano; 50-59 - Peter Nestler; 60/Over - Walt Stack; Falter-Don - Ted & Peter Larson.

Our apologies for taking so long with the results, but we would rather do a good job and take a little longer. You'll notice that very few splits were missed this time, thanks to the able talents of Art Dudley and his crew at the checkpoint. We'd appreciate your telling us if you think your time at any point differs significantly from what you thought it should have been.
